

This is a schematic representation of the temporal spans of the 17 mean-tree measurement series now available for the YAD site. Total sample counts through time are shown by the grey shading (right hand side).